What is this project?

The Fundamentals of Survival Campaign is connected to three essential needs for life that many individuals lack access to. Meat, water, and shelter are such essentials. The program will also concentrate on individualized attention to the environment, local and global community involvement, and collective influence.

Why is there a need for this project?

The initiative focuses on the three areas of food, water, and shelter as billions of people struggle with access to at least one of these necessities. Stopping these risk factors before they lead to homelessness and distress can help curb the issue that strikes many of our students and friends in Broward County. We have over 500 BCPS students who leave in shelters. Over 300 who have to live in cars or vehicles. Over 400 who move from motel to motel rooms.
